SOCIETY

Kauai's Red Cross Garden Fete.

Hoea, the Kauai home of Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Knudsen, with its spacious grounds, was transformed into a typical fairyland on November 23rd, when the ladies of Waimea district, headed by Mrs. Knudsen, gave a garden festival for the benefit of the Red Cross war fund.

A more ideal evening for the affair could not have been wished for and this made a large attendance possible, including people from Manoa to Lihue. The main attraction of the evening was the concert given by Mrs. Bessie Abbott Howland, the acted operatic singer, who was accompanied by Miss Louise Day of Lihue. Mrs. Howland's voice, under perfect control, was admired and appreciated by all present and her pleasing personality won for her on Kauai a great many friends. Mrs. Putnam of Lihue and Dr. West of Makaweli, in violin selections, as well as Mr. Dougherty's singing were the means of adding materially to the musical end of the evening's program.

Among the other attractions on the program was the interesting Norwegian Spring Dance, danced by Miss Ida L'Orange and her brother, Hans L'Orange, both of whom were attired in Norwegian peasant costumes. Mrs. Howland, assisted by Mr. Morrow of Lihue, danced the ever-fascinating tango with her usual grace and style.

A good many things were raffled off and this added to the amusement of the evening and aided materially the income of the affair. A number of booths in the various parts of Mrs. Knudsen's spacious grounds were presided over by the ladies of the district. Here one could be served with coffee, cocoa, cakes, sandwiches, drinks, candy and if anyone found himself in urgent need of having his fortune told there were a number of gypsies present who for a small sum would tell your past, present and future. And for a larger sum one's "future" could be much improved upon.

All credit is due to the following ladies whose active participation made the evening a most successful affair:

Mesdames Knudsen, Brandt, Ewart, Mesgaard, Danford, Lyman, Hansen, Hofgaard, West, Bauham, Kalbaum, Oliver, Greig, Misses Lee, Cummings, Johnson, von Arnswaldt, L'Orange, Jackson, Mengler, Anderson, Estaves and others.

Although the affair took place on a Monday night it did not interfere with the attendance to judge from the receipts, which aggregated over $350.

New Book by Katherine M. Yates.

From the San Francisco News Letter comes the following item which will be of interest to Honolulu society folk: "A new story by Katherine M. Yates, entitled 'A Tale From the Rainbow Land,' will be published in December by Paul Elder & Company in San Francisco. Mrs. Yates is the author of such popular books as 'On the Way There,' 'At the Door,' 'Chet,' and several others, the sale of which has reached over 100,000 copies. The new book, although fanciful in its nature, deals with a world-wide phase of human life. It will be illustrated by Audley Wells."

For the past few years Mrs. Yates has lived in Honolulu and has many friends here. She attends comparatively few social functions, seemingly preferring an afternoon in her cozy little room overlooking the waters at Waikiki, or a few hours' tramping through the hills. Mrs. Yates finds ample time for charitable work, however, and takes an active part in the affairs of several philanthropic organizations here.

Church Sale of Useful Articles.

These articles consist of prettily embroidered towels, napkins, dollies, ladies' shopping bags, kimono, etc.—all quite suitable for Christmas gifts, etc. For a year or more the women of the S. King street Japanese M. E. church, assisted by Mrs. J. W. Wadman, have been busily engaged in making these useful articles and they will offer them for sale Friday, beginning at 10 a. m., in a vacant store next to the Japanese Bazaar on Fort street and nearly opposite the Roman Catholic cathedral. A few American ladies will assist the Japanese women. Dainty refreshments will be served all day till 9 p. m. The proceeds of the sale are to be used for the purchase of some necessary church furnishings, including pulpit chairs, Bibles, hymnals, carpets, etc. Rev. G. Motokawa is the pastor.

To Spend the Spring in Honolulu.

The many friends of Miss Alice Moore and Miss Coyle Moore will be delighted to learn that they are planning to spend the spring and possibly the summer in Honolulu. For a number of years these young ladies with their parents have spent the winter in Hawaii, while their summers are usually passed in Europe. Ardent devotees of tennis, swimming, training and all other out-of-door activities, the Misses Moore have found the Paradise of the Pacific an ideal place for these sports.

The Moores will leave their home in Iowa shortly after Christmas, and after spending a few days in the East will come to Honolulu through the Panama canal. They expect to arrive in Honolulu about January 26.

Spending Their Honeymoon in Honolulu.

The Manoa may truly be called the "honeymoon ship," for the vessel has yet to make a trip to Honolulu without at least one honeymoon couple. Yesterday when she came into port she brought, among other passengers, Mr. and Mrs. Bode K. Smith, who will spend their honeymoon in Honolulu. Mrs. Smith was formerly Miss Roba Athley Stone of St. Louis, and the wedding of the young couple was one of the smart winter affairs of that city. Mr. Smith is assistant general passenger traffic manager of the Western Pacific.

After remaining in the islands a few weeks Mr. and Mrs. Smith will return to San Francisco, where they will make their home.

Miss Barrie Gamble Entertains.

One of the most delightful affairs of the past week was the bridge tea at which Miss Barrie Gamble entertained on Saturday afternoon. Ferns and cut flowers were artistically arranged about the house and on the lawn where the guests wiled away the pleasant hours of the afternoon at cards. When the games were finished dainty prizes were awarded those who made the highest scores. Some among Miss Gamble's guests were: Mrs. William H. Carter, Miss C. B. T. Moore, Mrs. Benjamin W. Atkinson, Mrs. John Randolph, Mrs. Charles Bromwell, Mrs. R. M. Cutts, Mrs. Frederick W. Phisterer, Mrs. Jerome G. Pillow, Mrs. J. D. Reardan, Mrs. Sarah Newcomb, Miss Ellis and Miss Gamble.

Cards at the Country Club This Afternoon.

Mrs. Jerome Pillow, wife of Lieut. Jerome Pillow, has cards out for a bridge party at the Country Club this afternoon. The affair will be one of the largest social functions of the week.

Luncheon for Miss Delia Holmes.

Miss Delia Holmes was the complimented guest at a prettily appointed luncheon Saturday when Miss Marian Peacock entertained for this charming visitor to Hawaii. Purple and gold were the colors chosen by the hostess for the decorations and slender vases filled with violets and yellow coreopsis were arranged upon the table cover. Covers were laid for seven, including Miss Delia Holmes, Mrs. E. J. O'Hara, Miss Hazel Jones, Mrs. H. J. Sanders, Mrs. P. J. Willett, Miss Edith Peacock and the hostess.

Dance at the Country Club This Evening.

Members of the Oahu Country Club and their friends are looking forward to the monthly dance at the club which takes place this evening. The moon will be full and with the cool mountain breezes the best of Hawaiian music and a splendid dancing floor it is expected that the affair will be one of the week's successes.

Tea in Manoa.

One of the very pretty affairs of the week will be the tea at which Mrs. Donald Ross is entertaining at her Manoa Valley home tomorrow afternoon.

News comes from the mainland that Mrs. Arthur Wilder is being entertained extensively in and about San Francisco. A charming society woman, Mrs. Wilder has been hostess at many of the most enjoyable social functions in local society and her friends regret that she spends so much time on the mainland.

Before returning to the islands it is the Wilders' plan to make an extensive visit throughout the eastern states.

Miss Tyson is entertaining extensively this winter and already has been guest of honor at a number of delightful dinners and teas.

Mr. and Mrs. Philip S. Kamm, who spent their honeymoon in Honolulu, were departing passengers in the Wilhelmina. During their brief stay in the islands Mr. and Mrs. Kamm were the house-guests of Mr. and Mrs. Lorin Thurston. A number of informal entertainments were given in honor of the bridal couple while they were in Honolulu.

Mrs. F. D. McKernan is a passenger on the Wilhelmina, returning to her home in Vallejo, Cal., after spending several weeks with Judge and Mrs. A. D. Larnach.

Mrs. John P. Erdman, who has been visiting on the mainland for the past few months, is booked to return to the islands in the Matsucia next week.

Mrs. E. M. Wodehouse, who has spent several months on the mainland, is expected to return to Hawaii in the Matsucia next week.
